

SUGAR TRUST HIT HARD

Thomas, Parsons and 4 Directors Indicted

CHARGE IS CONSPIRACY

For Trade Restraint—Thomas and Arthur Donner Are Well Known in New England—Sugar Officials Are All Very Prominent.

New York, July 2.—The federal grand jury which has been investigating the sugar trust's loan to Adolph Segal of Philadelphia, which was made the basis of the plan of the trust to put out of commission Segal's Pennsylvania Sugar Refining company, handed up indictments yesterday morning before Judge Hand in the United States circuit court against the American Sugar Refining company as a corporation and against the following individuals: Washington B. Thomas, president of the trust; John E. Parsons, its counsel, and the alter ego of its late president, Henry L. Havemeyer; Arthur Donner, John Mayer, George H. Frazin, and C. Senef, directors; Thomas B. Harned, who was counsel for Segal in the preliminary negotiations connected with the sugar trust's loan, and Gustav Kissel, who acted as agent for the sugar trust in making the loan after he had already undertaken to represent Segal in negotiating such a loan as Segal required.

Attached to the indictment and forming the basis of one of the counts is a copy of the resolutions passed at a meeting of directors of the American Sugar Refining company held Feb. 13, 1907, which the secretary is instructed to communicate to the president of the company at a "stockholders' meeting" that the company assume "entire responsibility of what has occurred in the Segal matter."

The resolution pledges the American Refining company to "defend, protect and indemnify the president" and "in the event of a suit and possible recovery that it will either pay the same, or if an appeal is taken, will stay proceedings, and if required, make payment."

The section of the law under which the indictments were found provides as penalties a fine of not more than $5,000 or imprisonment for not more than one year, or both, in the case of the individuals and a fine of not more than $5,000 in the case of a corporation.

The indictments followed a decision by Attorney General Wickersham in Washington Wednesday adverse to legal contentions raised by lawyers for the sugar trust for John E. Parsons and for Kissel at a conference with United States District Attorney Wise on Monday.

These injunctions were the last cards which the trust and its officials could play in their fight to stave off indictment, inasmuch as the facts in the case were known and not open to question, and the attorney general of the present administration had already demonstrated that he was not subject to political, personal or financial influences. There were three objections, all told: one based on the contention that the statute of limitations had run against the acts constituting the Segal loan transaction; second, that the decision of the United States court in the Knight case nearly twenty years ago made prosecution impossible on the state of facts here apparent; and the third, that the essential documents required by the prosecution having been produced in civil litigation by Parsons and Kissel could not be used in evidence against them or against the American Sugar Refining company, since Thomas and Parsons were officers of that corporation.

The indictments were drawn last Friday, and ready to be handed up to the sitting judge of the United States circuit court. There remained only to be examined one or two minor witnesses whose testimony was not required in prosecution, having been produced in civil litigation by Parsons and Kissel, could not be used in evidence against them or against the American Sugar Refining company, since Thomas and Parsons were officers of that corporation.

Yesterday's American League Scores.
At Boston, Boston 3, Philadelphia 1.
At New York, New York 3, Washington 1.
At Chicago, St. Louis 3, Chicago 0.
At Detroit, Detroit 9, Cleveland 3.

American League Standing.
Won.	Lost.	Pct.
Detroit	44	21 .677
Philadelphia	36	26 .581
Boston	32	28 .533
Cleveland	32	30 .516
New York	30	31 .492
Chicago	26	34 .433
St. Louis	24	39 .381
Washington	21	40 .344

All games in the National league were postponed on account of the funeral of President Durham of the Philadelphia club.

MORE CUSTOMS FRAUDS FOUND.
Government Investigating at San Francisco.

San Francisco, July 2.—Following the seizure by collector of the Port F. S. Stratton of the thousands of dollars' worth of oriental art goods consigned to California importers, it has been learned here that the treasury officials at Washington have ordered Marion Davies, president of the general board of appraisers, to conduct an investigation.

MAY IMPRISON ARCHBISHOP.
The Result of the Defiance of French Law.

Auch, France, July 2.—The correctional court of Auch yesterday fined Archbishop Howard $100 for making public a personal letter in which he denounced secular education as anti-Christian and anti-patriotic. Six priests of the diocese also were fined $10 each for complicity with the archbishop. The archbishop refused to pay, and the court ruled that if they did not comply with its orders they should be imprisoned for the minimum period provided by law.

Constipation Hood's Pills

HARVARD'S VICTORY BY SIX LENGTHS

Crimson Crew Won Up a Full Day of Victories Last Evening When The Varsity Downed Yale's Crew.

New London, Conn., July 2.—In a grand exhibition of rowing by a crew remarkable for its physical power and endurance, Harvard last evening defeated Yale in the annual varsity boat race on the Thames. The crimson led from start to finish and won by 6 lengths. Harvard's time was 21:50; Yale's 22:10. By this victory Harvard won her second consecutive boat race from Yale in 28 years. It was estimated that at least 10,000 spectators witnessed the race.

Although Harvard won by a handsome margin and administered a crushing defeat to Yale, the race nevertheless was a contest right up to the last half mile. All the way up the river the two-eights rowed with almost equal precision, though the crimson made two strokes and sometimes three to the minute more than Yale. Harvard thus crept away from Yale, little by little. For two and a half miles Yale kept within a scant boat length of her Cambridge rival. Then Harvard put on her power and increased her lead first to three lengths, then to four lengths and finally to five and six lengths. Yale spurred with her old time determination, but it was in vain. "The record of the race as kept by the official timers was as follows:

Harvard:
One mile 5:10; two miles 10:45; three miles 16:10; four miles 21:50.
Yale:
One mile 5:12; two miles 10:45; three miles 16:20; four miles 22:10.
Winning distance six lengths.

The striking of the crews at the mile follows: Harvard start 30; one mile 24; two miles 34; three miles 35; finish 36.

Yale, start 38; one mile 31; two miles 32; three miles 34; finish 36.
The explanation of Yale's defeat is not difficult. Harvard, with a crew that averaged almost six pounds to the man heavier than Yale, was able to row right through the race at a snail's pace, faster than Yale and still get out of this stroke her maximum of speed. Comparisons of strokes and scientific discussions of methods of rowing will not explain away Yale's defeat. Yale today had men in her shell who proved that they were physically capable of rowing a splendid four mile race. But they met a Harvard crew of unusual physical power and endurance.

The difference between the two crews was physical and not scientific.
The New Captains.
Harvard last night elected Jesse Edwin Waid, 1910, of Denver, Colo., captain for next year. He rowed at No. 7 in the crew.
Yale elected as her captain for 1910 Ruthven Adriance Woodell, 1910, of Poughkeepsie, N. Y. He rowed No. 3 in yesterday's race.

EXPOSITION WELL ATTENDED.

The First Month's Total at Seattle Is 667,971.

Seattle, July 2.—The attendance for the first month of the Alaska-Yukon-Pacific exposition, according to an official statement given Wednesday night, amounted to 667,971. President J. E. Chilberg stated that the net profits for the month amounted to $86,000. The number of complimentary admissions is considered small, being placed by fair officials at twenty-seven per cent.

Granite City Trotting Park Barre, Vt.

Saturday Monday
July 3 and 5

RACES

	PURSE
3.00 Trot and Pace,	$100
2.35 Trot and Pace,	125
2.27 Trot and Pace,	150
2.22 Trot and Pace,	150
2.18 Trot and Pace,	175
Free-for-All Trot and Pace	200

Band Concerts—Base Ball Games
Each Day by Strong Teams

A big entry list has been secured and some of the best racing ever seen in Vermont is assured. Watch for hand bills.

ADMISSION

Single, Admission,	25c
Single Teams,	25c
Double Teams,	50c
Automobiles,	25c

FINE ENTRY LIST.

For Two Days' Racing at the Granite City Track, July 3 and 5.

A fine entry list has been received by the Gentlemen's Driving club for the races at the Granite City park on Saturday and Monday, July 3 and 5. The first three classes below are for Saturday and the others for Monday:

3:00, Trot or Pace, Purse $100.00.
Dr. Stiles, b. s., F. A. Slayton, Barre.
Madeline Wilkes, br. m., F. A. Slayton, Barre.
Islip, b. m., W. H. Dube, Sheldon Junction.
Bonnie West, B. H. Combs, Sheldon Junction.
Bradwell, c. s., J. Buzzell, Montpelier.
Julia Yeiser, c. m., Thomas Utton, Morrisville.
Lady Beryl, c. m., F. W. Wood, Randolph Center.
Idolnut, br. g., J. E. Marsten, Pittsfield, N. H.
Foxy Jane, ch. m., J. E. Marsten, Pittsfield, N. H.
Conway, b. g., F. B. Williams, Enfield, N. H.
Alcan, b. s., E. A. Sunderlin, Lebanon, N. H.

2:27, Trot or Pace, Purse $150.00.
Wilkes Cobden, b. s., F. A. Slayton, Barre.
Golden Maid, c. m., P. L. Brown & Son, Barre.
Alcan, b. s., E. A. Sunderlin, Lebanon, N. H.
Conway, b. g., F. B. Williams, Enfield, N. H.
Al Dillard, br. h., Page Bros., Barre.
Bradwell, c. s., J. Buzzell, Montpelier.
Lady Beryl, c. m., F. W. Wood, Randolph Center.
Scrimgaught, b. s., John Utton & Sons, Morrisville.
Winona C., A. Woodrow, White River Junction.
Lady of Westerville, A. Barney, Westerville.
Starlight, b. g., John Utton & Sons, Morrisville.
Idolnut, br. g., J. E. Marsten, Pittsfield, N. H.
Foxy Jane, ch. m., J. E. Marsten, Pittsfield, N. H.

2:18, Trot or Pace, Purse $175.00.
Ben Hur, c. s., A. W. W. W. W., Barre.
Oradell, br. g., L. M. Seaver, Williams-town.
The Outlaw, b. g., Page Bros., Barre.
Rainbow, A. Woodrow, White River Junction.
Maud S., c. m., J. E. Marsten, Pittsfield, N. H.
Allinetta, b. m., E. A. Sunderlin, Lebanon, N. H.
Lady Whitcomb, b. m., Smith Stock Farm, Barre.

2:35, Trot or Pace, Purse $125.00.
Golden Maid, c. m., P. L. Brown & Son, Barre.

Islip, b. m., W. H. Dube, Sheldon Junction.
Rose Baker, g. m., L. O. Allen, Middlebury.
Dr. Stiles, b. s., F. A. Slayton, Barre.
Madeline Wilkes, br. m., F. A. Slayton, Barre.

Alcan, b. s., E. A. Sunderlin, Lebanon, N. H.
Bradwell, c. s., J. Buzzell, Montpelier.
Julia Yeiser, c. m., Thomas Utton, Morrisville.

Conway, b. g., F. B. Williams, Enfield, N. H.
Lady Beryl, c. m., F. W. Wood, Randolph Center.
Bonnie West, B. H. Combs, Sheldon Junction.
Idolnut, br. g., J. E. Marsten, Pittsfield, N. H.
Foxy Jane, ch. m., J. E. Marsten, Pittsfield, N. H.

2:22, Trot or Pace, Purse $150.00.
Lady Whitcomb, b. m., Smith Stock Farm, Barre.
Vic Pointer, b. g., N. P. Wheeler, White River Junction.
Wilkes Cobden, b. s., F. A. Slayton, Barre.

Scrimgaught, b. s., John Utton & Sons, Morrisville.
Al Dillard, br. h., Page Bros., Barre.
Red Brine, br. s., Thomas Utton, Morrisville.

Winona C., A. Woodrow, White River Junction.
Maud S., c. m., J. E. Marsten, Pittsfield, N. H.

Idolnut, br. g., J. E. Marsten, Pittsfield, N. H.
Foxy Jane, ch. m., J. E. Marsten, Pittsfield, N. H.

Free for All, Purse $200.00.
Hal E., br. s., L. O. Allen, Middlebury.
Ben Hur, c. s., A. W. W. W., Barre.
Silver Heels, c. g., Barrows & Luce, Stowe.

Northern Spy, g. s., J. E. Marsten, Pittsfield, N. H.
Idolnut, br. g., J. E. Marsten, Pittsfield, N. H.
Knightsdown Belle, bl. m., J. E. Marsten, Pittsfield, N. H.

Jennie W., b. m., E. A. Sunderlin, Lebanon, N. H.

Free for All, Purse $200.00.

Hal E., br. s., L. O. Allen, Middlebury.
Ben Hur, c. s., A. W. W. W., Barre.
Silver Heels, c. g., Barrows & Luce, Stowe.

Northern Spy, g. s., J. E. Marsten, Pittsfield, N. H.
Idolnut, br. g., J. E. Marsten, Pittsfield, N. H.
Knightsdown Belle, bl. m., J. E. Marsten, Pittsfield, N. H.

Jennie W., b. m., E. A. Sunderlin, Lebanon, N. H.

Free for All, Purse $200.00.

Hal E., br. s., L. O. Allen, Middlebury.
Ben Hur, c. s., A. W. W. W., Barre.
Silver Heels, c. g., Barrows & Luce, Stowe.

Northern Spy, g. s., J. E. Marsten, Pittsfield, N. H.
Idolnut, br. g., J. E. Marsten, Pittsfield, N. H.
Knightsdown Belle, bl. m., J. E. Marsten, Pittsfield, N. H.

Jennie W., b. m., E. A. Sunderlin, Lebanon, N. H.

Free for All, Purse $200.00.

Hal E., br. s., L. O. Allen, Middlebury.
Ben Hur, c. s., A. W. W. W., Barre.
Silver Heels, c. g., Barrows & Luce, Stowe.

Northern Spy, g. s., J. E. Marsten, Pittsfield, N. H.
Idolnut, br. g., J. E. Marsten, Pittsfield, N. H.
Knightsdown Belle, bl. m., J. E. Marsten, Pittsfield, N. H.

Jennie W., b. m., E. A. Sunderlin, Lebanon, N. H.

Free for All, Purse $200.00.

Hal E., br. s., L. O. Allen, Middlebury.
Ben Hur, c. s., A. W. W. W., Barre.
Silver Heels, c. g., Barrows & Luce, Stowe.

NO REPEAL OF EARNINGS TAX

Will Remain for all Time, Says Senator Bourne

OF TAFT'S "GOLF CABINET."

Vigorous Support by Root—Comes Out Flat-footed for Measure—Borah Quotes President as in Opposition Last Fall.

Washington, July 2.—Senator Bourne of Oregon, a member of the president's "golf cabinet," made a speech in the Senate yesterday on the corporation tax proposition which is regarded as a presentation from the administration viewpoint. Senator Bourne declared that the corporation tax would not figure as an experiment.

"I predict that it will remain on the statute books for all time," said he. Revenue, he added, was a secondary consideration in this measure; the important consideration was the publicity feature.

Senator Bourne said President Taft had discussed the corporation tax with him last fall, and had gradually brought others to take the same position as himself. He denied that the president had been coaxed into support of the project.

"This assumption is an insult to the intelligence, the beauty and the ability of the chief executive," he declared. "I think I have seen the evolution coming on in the president's mind with respect to this tax."

Senator Aldrich, said the Oregon senator, had given valuable aid to the president in supporting the proposed tax.

Root Speaks Plainly.
Senator Root discussing the subject, made it clear that the president sent the special message to Congress in favor of the corporation tax because he did not want the income tax to pass—and saw a situation had arisen wherein it would pass otherwise. Mr. Root declared himself unhesitatingly for the corporation measure. Referring to the fact that the president sent a special message in a situation where the income tax was about to pass, he said:

"He did that, sir, of course, because he believed that a tax on the business of the country should be incorporated into law rather than an income tax. I agree with his judgment. I do not care to play with words. I am for the corporation tax because I think it is better policy, better patriotism, and higher wisdom than an income tax. I wish to defeat the income tax because I think it unwise, and I wish to pass the corporation tax because I think it is wise."

Mr. Root went into the history of the corporation tax and told of President Taft, through Mr. Longworth, having laid in March before the House ways and means committee a draft of such a measure, bearing on its face corrections in the writing of the attorney general and blanks filled in by the handwriting of the president himself. It was suggested as a substitute for the inheritance tax if preferred, or additional to that.

Mr. Root went at length into the objections to the income tax. He held that a man should not be taxed on the income he needed for the support of his family the same as his neighbor was taxed on his income from investments and securities.

P. G. BAILEY UNDER ARREST.
He Is Wanted for the Goldborough Frauds.

New York, July 2.—In the arrest at Vancouver, B. C., of a man who described himself as E. S. Kirkconnell, the police of this city believe they have in custody Francis G. Bailey of this city, one-time president of the Export Shipping company. Bailey, after obtaining about $150,000 worth of general merchandise from merchants of this city, sailed to Honduras in the spring of last year, where, after his arrest and while being brought back to this port, he escaped during the night of Tuesday, June 30, 1908, from the Norwegian steamer Utstein and swam ashore at Puerto Cortes, Honduras.

Bailey was president of the Export Shipping company for nine years prior to the spring of 1908. The company did business at No. 11 Broadway. It was only after Francis G. Bailey, with his brother Albert W., and Charles H. H. Myers and Captain O'Leary had failed to pay bills incurred for $150,000 worth of merchandise, that creditors learned of the sudden dissolution of the shipping company. When the Goldborough reached Puerto Cortes, Honduras, the ship's crew was arrested and all were turned over by Honduras to the United States government. The prisoners, except Francis G. Bailey, were brought here.

SPINAL MENINGITIS CURED.
Success Attends the Use of the New Serum.

Chicago, July 2.—An entirely successful cure of spinal meningitis became a matter of fact Wednesday, when Edward Herzog, two and a half years old, was able to leave his bed where he had been confined four weeks and walk out of doors, pronounced cured. The child was saved as a result of the discovery of a new serum by scientists in the new Rockefeller institute at New York.

OUTLOOK FOR WAR.
Gen. Bell Tells Officers There Are Plenty of Chances.

Kansas City, July 2.—Diplomats were presented by Gen. Frederick Funston to the nineteen student officers graduated from the Army school yesterday. In the commencement address, Gen. J. Franklin Bell, chief of staff, advised the officers not to become melancholy as there were plenty of chances of war.

BRYAN FAVORS TAX.

Both on Income and on Corporate Earnings.

Sioux Falls, S. D., July 2.—"We should have an income tax and corporation earnings tax enacted by Congress this year," said William Jennings Bryan yesterday. "I see no reason why one should be used as the alternative for the other. In order to get them we must obtain amendments to the constitution, not that I believe Congress would be unable to enact a constitutional law, but I do not think we should take any chances."

"Can you depend on the Democrats in the Senate to vote on the income tax?" Mr. Bryan was asked.
"Well," he answered hesitatingly, "we have some senators down there who have been playing horse, but I think they will be given a better opportunity to employ their horses at home the next season."

SUFFRAGISTS AT ODDS.
There Is Wrangling at Convention in Seattle.

Seattle, July 2.—The state convention of the Washington Woman Suffrage association was marked Wednesday by scenes of confusion and almost violence. A faction of fifty women, led by Mrs. Mary Arkwright Hutton of Spokane, sought to oust the present officers, headed by President Emma Smith Deros, whose supporters number about two hundred. The report of the committee on credentials declared the Spokane delegates not entitled to seats. On the debate on the report some of the delegates called others "thieves," "liars," "soundreils," and there was hysterical weeping and screaming. Advised that there was a riot in Plymouth church, a squad of policemen entered and found the convention in tears. The report of the credentials committee was adopted.

The July Suburban Life is distinctly an out-of-door number, with numerous vacation suggestions, as well as interesting contributions telling how to enjoy the summer at home. The leading article, by J. Horace McFarland, is entitled, "A Summer Lake Carnival," and ought to prove of unusual suggestive value to every vacation community.

"Diving, a Robust Sport," is the title of an article with wonderfully striking photographs, showing an expert diver in mid-air. "Almost a Noiseless Fourth," is an especially timely rattle, and "A Boy and His Father," by Truman A. DeWesse, is a bit of real literature. "Laying Out a Private Golf Course," "Playtime for Suburban Young People," and "Entertaining Out-of-doors," are valuable for the helpful suggestions which they contain. This month's article on the "Making Over an Old House" series has to do with the servants' apartments. "A Month in the Maine Woods," "Living in an Automobile," and "The Interior of the Summer Camp," should make a special appeal to those people who like to get far away from the haunts of civilization during the summer season. The July number is especially well illustrated, an attractive feature being a double page of pictures entitled "The Good Old Summer-time, from the Feminine Point of View."

The July Suburban Life is distinctly an out-of-door number, with numerous vacation suggestions, as well as interesting contributions telling how to enjoy the summer at home. The leading article, by J. Horace McFarland, is entitled, "A Summer Lake Carnival," and ought to prove of unusual suggestive value to every vacation community.

"Diving, a Robust Sport," is the title of an article with wonderfully striking photographs, showing an expert diver in mid-air. "Almost a Noiseless Fourth," is an especially timely rattle, and "A Boy and His Father," by Truman A. DeWesse, is a bit of real literature. "Laying Out a Private Golf Course," "Playtime for Suburban Young People," and "Entertaining Out-of-doors," are valuable for the helpful suggestions which they contain. This month's article on the "Making Over an Old House" series has to do with the servants' apartments. "A Month in the Maine Woods," "Living in an Automobile," and "The Interior of the Summer Camp," should make a special appeal to those people who like to get far away from the haunts of civilization during the summer season. The July number is especially well illustrated, an attractive feature being a double page of pictures entitled "The Good Old Summer-time, from the Feminine Point of View."

The July Suburban Life is distinctly an out-of-door number, with numerous vacation suggestions, as well as interesting contributions telling how to enjoy the summer at home. The leading article, by J. Horace McFarland, is entitled, "A Summer Lake Carnival," and ought to prove of unusual suggestive value to every vacation community.

"Diving, a Robust Sport," is the title of an article with wonderfully striking photographs, showing an expert diver in mid-air. "Almost a Noiseless Fourth," is an especially timely rattle, and "A Boy and His Father," by Truman A. DeWesse, is a bit of real literature. "Laying Out a Private Golf Course," "Playtime for Suburban Young People," and "Entertaining Out-of-doors," are valuable for the helpful suggestions which they contain. This month's article on the "Making Over an Old House" series has to do with the servants' apartments. "A Month in the Maine Woods," "Living in an Automobile," and "The Interior of the Summer Camp," should make a special appeal to those people who like to get far away from the haunts of civilization during the summer season. The July number is especially well illustrated, an attractive feature being a double page of pictures entitled "The Good Old Summer-time, from the Feminine Point of View."

The July Suburban Life is distinctly an out-of-door number, with numerous vacation suggestions, as well as interesting contributions telling how to enjoy the summer at home. The leading article, by J. Horace McFarland, is entitled, "A Summer Lake Carnival," and ought to prove of unusual suggestive value to every vacation community.

"Diving, a Robust Sport," is the title of an article with wonderfully striking photographs, showing an expert diver in mid-air. "Almost a Noiseless Fourth," is an especially timely rattle, and "A Boy and His Father," by Truman A. DeWesse, is a bit of real literature. "Laying Out a Private Golf Course," "Playtime for Suburban Young People," and "Entertaining Out-of-doors," are valuable for the helpful suggestions which they contain. This month's article on the "Making Over an Old House" series has to do with the servants' apartments. "A Month in the Maine Woods," "Living in an Automobile," and "The Interior of the Summer Camp," should make a special appeal to those people who like to get far away from the haunts of civilization during the summer season. The July number is especially well illustrated, an attractive feature being a double page of pictures entitled "The Good Old Summer-time, from the Feminine Point of View."

The July Suburban Life is distinctly an out-of-door number, with numerous vacation suggestions, as well as interesting contributions telling how to enjoy the summer at home. The leading article, by J. Horace McFarland, is entitled, "A Summer Lake Carnival," and ought to prove of unusual suggestive value to every vacation community.

"Diving, a Robust Sport," is the title of an article with wonderfully striking photographs, showing an expert diver in mid-air. "Almost a Noiseless Fourth," is an especially timely rattle, and "A Boy and His Father," by Truman A. DeWesse, is a bit of real literature. "Laying Out a Private Golf Course," "Playtime for Suburban Young People," and "Entertaining Out-of-doors," are valuable for the helpful suggestions which they contain. This month's article on the "Making Over an Old House" series has to do with the servants' apartments. "A Month in the Maine Woods," "Living in an Automobile," and "The Interior of the Summer Camp," should make a special appeal to those people who like to get far away from the haunts of civilization during the summer season. The July number is especially well illustrated, an attractive feature being a double page of pictures entitled "The Good Old Summer-time, from the Feminine Point of View."

The July Suburban Life is distinctly an out-of-door number, with numerous vacation suggestions, as well as interesting contributions telling how to enjoy the summer at home. The leading article, by J. Horace McFarland, is entitled, "A Summer Lake Carnival," and ought to prove of unusual suggestive value to every vacation community.

"Diving, a Robust Sport," is the title of an article with wonderfully striking photographs, showing an expert diver in mid-air. "Almost a Noiseless Fourth," is an especially timely rattle, and "A Boy and His Father," by Truman A. DeWesse, is a bit of real literature. "Laying Out a Private Golf Course," "Playtime for Suburban Young People," and "Entertaining Out-of-doors," are valuable for the helpful suggestions which they contain. This month's article on the "Making Over an Old House" series has to do with the servants' apartments. "A Month in the Maine Woods," "Living in an Automobile," and "The Interior of the Summer Camp," should make a special appeal to those people who like to get far away from the haunts of civilization during the summer season. The July number is especially well illustrated, an attractive feature being a double page of pictures entitled "The Good Old Summer-time, from the Feminine Point of View."

The July Suburban Life is distinctly an out-of-door number, with numerous vacation suggestions, as well as interesting contributions telling how to enjoy the summer at home. The leading article, by J. Horace McFarland, is entitled, "A Summer Lake Carnival," and ought to prove of unusual suggestive value to every vacation community.

"Diving, a Robust Sport," is the title of an article with wonderfully striking photographs, showing an expert diver in mid-air. "Almost a Noiseless Fourth," is an especially timely rattle, and "A Boy and His Father," by Truman A. DeWesse, is a bit of real literature. "Laying Out a Private Golf Course," "Playtime for Suburban Young People," and "Entertaining Out-of-doors," are valuable for the helpful suggestions which they contain. This month's article on the "Making Over an Old House" series has to do with the servants' apartments. "A Month in the Maine Woods," "Living in an Automobile," and "The Interior of the Summer Camp," should make a special appeal to those people who like to get far away from the haunts of civilization during the summer season. The July number is especially well illustrated, an attractive feature being a double page of pictures entitled "The Good Old Summer-time, from the Feminine Point of View."

The July Suburban Life is distinctly an out-of-door number, with numerous vacation suggestions, as well as interesting contributions telling how to enjoy the summer at home. The leading article, by J. Horace McFarland, is entitled, "A Summer Lake Carnival," and ought to prove of unusual suggestive value to every vacation community.

"Diving, a Robust Sport," is the title of an article with wonderfully striking photographs, showing an expert diver in mid-air. "Almost a Noiseless Fourth," is an especially timely rattle, and "A Boy and His Father," by Truman A. DeWesse, is a bit of real literature. "Laying Out a Private Golf Course," "Playtime for Suburban Young People," and "Entertaining Out-of-doors," are valuable for the helpful suggestions which they contain. This month's article on the "Making Over an Old House" series has to do with the servants' apartments. "A Month in the Maine Woods," "Living in an Automobile," and "The Interior of the Summer Camp," should make a special appeal to those people who like to get far away from the haunts of civilization during the summer season. The July number is especially well illustrated, an attractive feature being a double page of pictures entitled "The Good Old Summer-time, from the Feminine Point of View."

The July Suburban Life is distinctly an out-of-door number, with numerous vacation suggestions, as well as interesting contributions telling how to enjoy the summer at home. The leading article, by J. Horace McFarland, is entitled, "A Summer Lake Carnival," and ought to prove of unusual suggestive value to every vacation community.

"Diving, a Robust Sport," is the title of an article with wonderfully striking photographs, showing an expert diver in mid-air. "Almost a Noiseless Fourth," is an especially timely rattle, and "A Boy and His Father," by Truman A. DeWesse, is a bit of real literature. "Laying Out a Private Golf Course," "Playtime for Suburban Young People," and "Entertaining Out-of-doors